

Teo 7810 IP Phone

The Teo IP Phone 7810 is a feature-rich, executive-level desk phone designed for government, military, and commercial power users. The phone can be powered over Ethernet or with an included power supply. An optional 8030x expansion module increases the number of feature and speed dial keys to 40, offering rapid access to the numbers and features you use most. The 7810 incorporates TLS and SRTP encryption and supports both IPv4 and IPv6 transport.

“All of the methods you use to communicate can be managed in a single platform.”
